AVEROFF

2000 Metsovo Estate Averoff

Rich, extracted, dark and blank-fruited, this is smoky and meaty as barbecued beef. Underneath the thick stream of black currant fruit, it's tannic and hard, more rustic than it seems at first. Yet its take-no-prisoners approach is winning: spicy, savory, staying, and ready to take on large cuts of roast meats.

The opposite end of the spectrum from Averoff's Estate red, this is lightly and spicy, its nutty red cherry fruit suited to summer sausages and salty sliced ham.
